Models

The models mentioned above were delivered in winter/spring 2025. All vehicles are reissues of already known models, with new operating numbers and partially modified paint schemes.

Without exception, the models can also be used for Nm narrow gauge. Please note the offer from our business partner Marco Schilensky at www.meterspur-schweiz.com.

It is pleasing to see another advertising locomotive based on the Ge4/4II being released, which is also available as a narrow gauge model and is a useful addition to the model railway enthusiast's fleet.

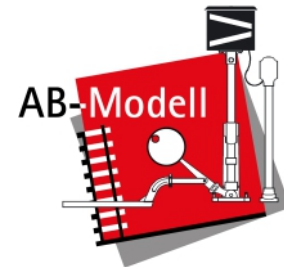

Models

The vehicles and sets are available from specialist retailers or from the German general importer Lemke

New Models and Reissues

In addition to the reissues, Kato also has some new designs to offer. For example, the model of the Excellence Class carriage has now been launched to accompany the Glacier Express. True to the original, it has a different interior and a modified door at one end, without a diaphragm. This always faces the locomotive or is aligned at the end of the train.

A particular highlight is the first mass production of the famous Rhaetian Crocodile. The standard carriages have been produced in green to match. Although the luggage van is not a new design, it has been given a continuous roof without the heating pantograph.

Models

These models were delivered from autumn 2025 onwards and are available from specialist retailers.

The new generation of Ge4/4III now has indicated front sockets, but unfortunately still has only moderately moulded grab rails that are not free-standing. The visual appearance has changed in that all models of this type now feature large RhB advertising.

The Crocodile is certainly a long-cherished model railway enthusiast's dream. We cannot say whether the locomotive model will ultimately be convertible to narrow and at what cost. If you are interested, please contact www.meterspur-schweiz.com. Thank you very much.
